

Alexander Vickery

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY	Economist specialising in competition disputes, applying econometric techniques to quantify damages, including estimation of price overcharge, umbrella/volume effects, assessing pass-on, developing robust counterfactuals, and translating findings into clear accessible evidence for clients.
EMPLOYMENT	Director, Disputes & Economics , Ankura Consulting (Europe), 1 Angel Ct, London, EC2R 7HJ, United Kingdom	Jan 2026–Present
	Assistant Manager - Economics , Commercial & Competition Disputes, BDO LLP, 55 Baker Street, London, W1U 8EW, United Kingdom	Sep 2024–Jan 2026
	Visiting Professor , College of Economics and Finance, Hanyang University, Seongdong-gu, Seoul, Republic of Korea	Mar 2023–Sep 2023
	British Academy Postdoctoral Fellow , Department of Economics, Royal Holloway University of London, Egham, Surrey, United Kingdom	Sep 2021–Sep 2024
SELECTED EXPERIENCE	Assisted an expert in a UK consumer rights act claim at the Competition Appeals Tribunal relating to the vehicle shipping industry (follow-on action). Conducted econometric analysis to support the oral evidence presented in this landmark case.
	Assisted audit teams as an internal expert on redress provision calculations in the context of the FCA’s 25/27 motor finance redress scheme. Developed a tool to implement the FCA’s redress calculation rules, enabling client’s provisions to be quantified and stress-tested under alternative economic scenarios. Reviewed clients’ methodologies and assessed the appropriateness and completeness of the assumptions underpinning the redress provision estimates.
	Assisted audits as an internal expert on expected credit loss (ECL) methodologies. Reviewed the economic scenarios and weightings used to calculate default probabilities, assessed the selection and relevance of macroeconomic variables, and evaluated clients’ ECL provision estimates.
